

16 educational activities for kids to do at home!

1 Download your free timetable

Keep your routine on track, with our FREE timetable - there's a blank version too!

2 Start a diary

Great for future history lessons and writing practice, start a diary detailing your at-home experience!

3 Ice Escapes

Freeze toys within ice overnight, then task your kids with finding the tools to free them quickest!

4 Make a word-search

Get the kids to make their own wordsearch, and see how many you can find!

5 Emoji Code-breakers

Pick 10 emojis and give them a number. Build equations using the emojis and get the kids to solve

6 Learn a new language

Pick a language and learn 5 new words per day - Duolingo is a great tool to try!

7 Do a virtual museum tour

From London to Seoul, Paris & more, explore museums around the world from home!

8 FREE Phonics

Get a free PhonicsPlay account during the outbreak...
username: march20
password: home

new.phonicsplay.co.uk

9 Twinkl taster packs

Download free primary school resource packs from Twinkl

twinkl.co.uk

10 Roll the dice game

Roll a dice to start. With each new roll, do a different action - add, subtract, multiply etc!

11 Find the alphabet

Write large letters on post-it notes and hide around the house - get kids to find the letters or spell words!

12 Egg drop science

Use 3 eggs and use different things to try & protect them. Drop from a height and see which works!

13 Play maths - Countdown style!

Make cards with 25, 50, 75 & 100 on & cards with 1-10. Pick a random number and try to hit it!

14 Read 5 new books

Set yourself a challenge to read 5 new books - Oxford Owl has over 100 free ebooks!

oxfordowl.co.uk

15 Try the Skittles experiment

Put Skittles in a circle on a plate, add warm water to the middle and watch!

16 Describe the room...

...but not literally! Use imagination to pick a 'room', then describe - e.g. being a cornflake in its box!

Find 84 more indoor activities for kids at www.dayoutwiththekids.co.uk